| 2 | Put the table top on a clean surface, leg connectors up. |
| 3 | Insert the legs into the table according to their mark on the leg and the table. For each of the table legs use six screws and tighten them until you feel a clear resistance. |
| 4 | Grasp the legs of the table near the joints with the top and put the table on a level floor. Wipe the entire piece of furniture with a damp cloth and then wipe it dry. |
| 5 | Unhook the clips connecting the tops and unscrew the guide brakes knobss until you feel some resistance (2 knobs on each of the guides)
NOTE: Never force the twisting of the brakes knobs because it may damage them. |
| 6 | Expand the table until you feel resistance. Pull out the table inserts and unpack them. |
| 7 | When using the table with inserts, to ensure the stability of the elements of the table, use the guides brakes. Before expanding the table, check that the brakes kobs are loosened (until you feel a slight resistance). Then, after you install the liner, tighten all the brakes knobs (4 pieces) to the limit. |
